

DESIGN

Having great gear is all well and good, but if you are serious about your home cinema, sound or simply want to take control of your home, a custom installer will be your best friend! These guys can work with your architect and builder to make sure your house will be equipped with all the slots and wires and a hundred other things you might need, and then fit out your home with the gear that is appropriate for your needs and your home. This year, we saw many amazing installations, but we would like to applaud the following three installers for their amazing work.

A specialist in home control systems, SmartHome Solutions can sort out your cabling, content distribution, lighting control and much more, even if you don't yet know what hardware (such as TVs or sound gear) you want present. The company put together this stunning install for a glamorous Sydney home, before anyone had even moved in! This means the future owner will be able to move in with no walls to break to add in cables and the like - it's all beautifully ready to go!
